BECOME A PARTNER IN
MAPPING FOR IMPACT

By telling us where things are, maps help us find what is missing.

Through our Mapping for Impact program, OpenStreetMap US partners with civic, social, and environmental organizations in the US to help them leverage the power of OpenStreetMap.

connect with our volunteers

BRING US YOUR CAUSE

Whether you're striving for equal access to healthy food or conserving wetlands in urban areas, OpenStreetMap data can help you advocate, communicate, or identify needs in support of your mission.

WE'LL HELP YOU MAKE AN IMPACT BY:

- Providing you with open geospatial data crowdsourced through targeted mapping campaigns
- Offering training to your team in open mapping and data use
- Fostering long term relationships with our volunteer network
- Promoting your cause with our partners
- Partnering with university students to develop visualizations based on your needs, supporting student skill development

join our virtual & in-person events

WHAT WE ASK FROM YOU:

- A few hours of your time to understand scope and needs
- Your presence and presentation at a minimum of one virtual event
- 1-2 blogposts to share with our community and network
- Promotion of our partnership through your channels
- Permission for us to use your logo & tell your story!

access our education platforms & resources

There is no cost to become a Mapping for Impact Partner! We do ask larger organizations to consider offering a donation, grant, or other financial support to OpenStreetMap US in order to offset program costs.
