“Development Seed has benefitted for many years from the OpenStreetMap project as we build open-source and open data tools for partners around the world. We give back in many ways: Our Data Team in Ayacucho, Peru, has made significant mapping contributions and shared enhancements to mapping tools. We have a strong core of team members active in OSM and building open-source tools around the larger OSM ecosystem. We consider OSM US our ‘home’ chapter, and you can frequently find our team members at State of the Map US. We are excited about the great initiatives that have come out of OSM US over the past couple of years, with Executive Director Maggie Cawley stewarding the organization forward. Supporting OSM US through an organizational membership is another way we can give that has a material impact. We want to encourage other organizations, especially businesses who benefit from OpenStreetMap, to take their commitment a step further and join us as an organizational member.”

— Development Seed

“The origins of Mapbox are intertwined with OpenStreetMap and the communities around it. We’re honored to formalize our ongoing relationship as a supporting organizational member of OpenStreetMap US, our ‘home’ chapter, and we look forward to ongoing collaboration across the entire OSM ecosystem”
